Confirmation of Public Recognition

The Swiss Section of the Ruamrudee International School (RIS Swiss Section) in Bangkok is, according to the Swiss Federal Law on the Support of the Education of Young Swiss Living Abroad (dated October 9th, 1987), an officially recognised private school. The County of Lucerne supervises the RIS Swiss Section and its curriculum.

The RIS Swiss Section follows a modified Swiss curriculum designed to focus on the educational needs of an international student from kindergarten to grade 12, and has a Gymnasium which leads to the high school diploma at the end of grade 12 (Eidgenössisch anerkannte Maturität). It was accredited by the County of Lucerne on July 3rd, 1995.

All degrees are recognized in the Swiss and German educational system. The Swiss high school diploma is equivalent to the German Abitur. Therefore Graduates can enroll at any university world-wide, assuming that their language competence is sufficient.
